

The Road to the Isles

'Rathad nan Eilean'

CAMUSDARACH

The campsite at Camusdarach offers superb panoramic views of the islands and is sheltered by many large mature trees. The undulating grassy surface makes tent pitching easy and offers flatter areas for caravans. The 42 pitches are generous in size and allow parking on-pitch. It is advisable to book a pitch in advance during July and August.

Electric hook-ups (16) are available and should be booked in advance. There are 2 hard-standing pitches particularly for large vans. Hook-ups are now available in both camping areas and serviced pitches are larger than before. Calor Midge-Eaters are installed in both camping areas.

Effluent from the shower-block is treated by a series of reed-beds which detoxify the outflow water preventing any contamination of the surrounding land. This provides an eco-friendly solution to waste disposal. A separate disposal point is available for chemical toilet waste.

The site has an immaculate, modern toilet and shower block, which includes a laundry with washing and drying machines, washing-up areas and facilities for the disabled and babies.

Our site has been awarded a quality standard of 4 stars by the Scottish Tourist Board and 4 pennants by the AA.

The site is open from March 15th to October 15th.

The whole estate is geared towards sustainable land use in the hope that we, as custodians of this small area of the Highlands, can pass on to the next generation a healthy environment for every living thing whether human or otherwise. We have been awarded the Green Tourism gold award.

A footpath from the site gives access to the superb sandy beaches used as a location in the film 'Local Hero' which are a mere 3 minute stroll away.

A travelling shop visits twice a week providing milk, meat, vegetables, fruit and basic groceries.

You will find us 4 miles North of Arisaig on the Old Coast Road (now known as the B8008), and will see our large red and gold signs at the gate.

*Prices for two people are:
Tent on serviced pitch £14/night
Caravan on serviced pitch £16/night*

This small estate, bordering the sea, makes an ideal centre for a peaceful holiday in the Highlands of Scotland. The fields and dunes, surrounding the house, are home to a small flock of Hebridean Sheep and chickens as well as a wealth of wildlife, including buzzards, rabbits, pine martens, ravens, duck and many interesting plants typical of a shifting sand environment.

You can now be married on the beach where Gollie took his new lady-love in 'Monarch of the Glen' and right beside where Ben (Fulton Mackay) lived in his upturned boat among the rocks in the film 'Local Hero'.
